10 Good Reasons
Athletes Are Not Recruited

1. They start their recruiting process to late.
2. They start by looking at too few schools.
3. They start by looking at schools that are out of their reach, athletically and/or academically.
4. They think it's their coach's job to get them a college scholarship.
5. They think that because they are a good athlete, college coaches will discover them.
6. They don't have video of their games.
7. They don't have a professional quality highlight video.
8. They think that being on a premier, club or AAU team will automatically get them noticed.
9. They think that college coaches will randomly discover them at high level tournaments.
10. They think that by registering with NCAA Initial Eligibility Center that college coaches will recruit them.
